REPORT OF LIBRARIAN

The report of the year ending January 31, 1937, is herewith submitted.

During the past year new bookshelves were built in the reading room. The boys' juvenile books are now kept on these shelves.

Two exhibits of drawings have been loaned by the Living American Art Group, of New York City. These pictures have been interesting and informative of trends in art.

Late in the fall, a Mrs. McCormack gave to the library committee, to use as they saw fit, twenty dollars. It is the hope of the committee to buy a table and small chairs for a children's corner. We have been told that this choice would please Mrs. McCormack, because she is much interested in children.

Mrs. Thomas and I attended the forty-seventh annual New Hampshire Library Association meeting held in New London September 2-5. This meeting was most stimulating to both trustees and librarians, by its inspiring speakers, its various book exhibits, and contact with many prominent people in library work throughout the state.

On October 2 a district library meeting was held in Dublin. Thirty-four librarians and trustees from nearby towns attended this all day meeting. Miss Agnes Troup spoke on adult books. Miss Jennie Lindquist, children's librarian of the Manchester Public Library, spoke on juvenile books. Mr. Robb Sagendorph, editor of the Yankee, told some interesting facts about the magazine.

Two hundred and ten books were added during the year. Mrs. Robert Sterling added many new children's books. The summer book club repeated their annual gift of books to the library.

Considerable thought should be given to adequate book shelf space within the next few years. In the seven years that I have been in the library over twelve hundred books have been added. Two different units of book shelves have been built in the reading room. Possibly a new arrangement of placing the center book stacks to make room for additional shelving in the stack room will solve this problem.

Respectfully submitted,

DOROTHY WORCESTER

REPORT OF THE DUBLIN SCHOOL BOARD

To the Citizens of the Dublin School District:

We herewith submit the one hundred and fifteenth annual report of our school.

The school year of 1936-1937 began with a change of principals.

It was with regret that the School Board accepted the resignation of Mr. Jesse Miller, who left to accept a position as science instructor in a Long Island High School.

We were very happy, however, in securing, through the Superintendent of Schools, so able a man as Mr. Alfred Tobey to take his place. Mr. Tobey has taken hold of his new work with such efficiency and enthusiasm that he has inspired all his associates with confidence and a willingness to co-operate with him in his efforts to make the school a more and more valuable part of the community.

The work of the lower grades and the special subjects are being efficiently carried on by the same teachers as last year.

The school house has been kept in excellent condition by Mr. Clukay, who in addition to his regular work, spent the summer painting and making minor repairs.

Mr. Tobey has submitted an outline of the plans he hopes to carry out, which though introducing no radical changes in the school program will, we feel, add interest to the school life. These plans include:

Definite instruction in the responsibilities of citizenship as well as in the mechanism of government;

An increase in organized gymnasium work for both boys and girls, and a varying of outdoor activities;

Trips to places of educational interest;

More exchanges with other schools, not only of athletic contests, but of assembly programs, spelling contests, etc.;

The providing of a hot lunch as a project for the older girls;

A more extensive use of the school building and its equipment after school hours, both by the children and by the community;

More frequent social gatherings at the school, by which means parents, teachers, children, and friends of the school may become better acquainted and better able to work together for the good of all.

We would like to close with an expression of appreciation for the wonderful co-operation we have had from all connected with and interested in the school.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS TO THE DUBLIN SCHOOL BOARD

I am submitting my third annual report of the Dublin schools, together with the statistical table, and summary, and the report of Miss Margaret E. Harris, school nurse.

At the close of the summer vacation, Mr. Jesse V. Miller, who had served most efficiently as principal of the Consolidated School for the past three years, resigned to accept a position in New York state.

We feel that we were fortunate in securing as his successor, Mr. Alfred R. Tobey, who had successfully taught in the Junior High Department of the Peterborough High School since 1928.

There were no other changes in the teaching staff, and the work of the school has been continued on the lines that have worked out successfully during the past two years.

The enrollment of the Consolidated School for the present year has been seventy-two as compared with seventy-eight for the school year 1935-1936.

The plans for enlarging the stage of the gymnasium, with the other changes contemplated are of special interest to the voters of Dublin. If this plan can be carried through as contemplated it will be a great improvement to the school property, and will be welcomed by all who use the building.

Dublin is to be congratulated upon its fine school and skilful teachers, who are doing so much to train the children for the duties and privileges of citizenship.

The Dublin schools have long since departed from the old mechanical organization of education with its methods for acquiring facts and skills. Its forms of discipline compelled the children to be inactive and unsocial. Under these conditions group enterprise and social behavior did not flourish.

Today in a growing number of schools we see children building a city with blocks, managing a real school store, giving an assembly program, dramatizing historical incidents, recording a club meeting, making playground rules, publishing a school newspaper, preparing a school exhibit, graphing school progress in spelling, mapping the route of a trip, and engaging in many other co-operative enterprises managed by pupils and teachers in groups which are moving toward fuller practice of democratic procedures in school life.

Children engaged in such enterprises are learning facts and skills better than ever before, because they are learning in situations where group effort is united on problems they wish to solve for a purpose they know and value. These children should grow into adults who are well informed, resourceful and competent.

Teachers also find their professional life renewed by this change in the school. Those who realize the connection between democratic trends in school life and problems of the adult world are likely to take an active part in professional organization, and to give thought to the responsibilities of citizenship.

We believe the Dublin schools are showing progress along these lines.

I appreciate the cordial support of the School Board, the teachers and pupils, and all who have helped to make the school year successful.

The clinic was financed by the parents and the local Red Cross. Average cost per person $1.47. 124 school visits were made since last report. Treatments in school 30. 31 home visits were made to follow up defects and encourage parents to take advantage of the opportunities offered through the clinics for the correction of their children's defects, and to investigate cases absent from school.

The beneficial results of Cod-liver oil and milk furnished through the school during the past few years is seen in the improved health of the children.

During childhood the growth, development and health of the teeth is dependent more on proper nutrition than any other factor. A balanced diet which contains adequate amounts of vitamins A, D and C must be given if we expect to obtain results. Cod-liver oil is the best source of A and D vitamins; oranges, tomatoes and raw cabbage are rich in vitamin C.

A hot school lunch offers the best means of solving many of our nutritional problems.

The children sit down to a meal instead of a cold lunch five days a week.

It supplies greater energy for the work of the afternoon. Besides, beneficial results are seen to follow in the improved health of the children both physically and mentally.

It offers an opportunity for giving information in the selection and preparation of food for an adequate dish for themselves and others for whom they may be responsible.

It is important that growing children have plenty of milk, as it is especially needed for good teeth and bones. Milk is always a good investment when very little money can be spent for food.

In addition to good nutrition the teeth must be kept clean. As soon as several baby teeth appear they must be watched carefully and if through carelessness or oversight a cavity appears it should be filled immediately. It is high time that mothers "cry down" the old myth that baby teeth are unimportant, "just a makeshift until the permanent teeth come." Baby teeth are the natural guides for the permanent teeth when they come. The so-called "six year molars," upon which, not only the whole permanent set but the actual shape of the face, the mental and physical welfare of the child depend are often lost, parents thinking them temporary teeth do not bother about them. The first teeth neglected or removed too soon will spoil the appearance of the permanent set and should never be removed without the advice of your dentist. Much suffering, both mental and physical would be prevented if teeth were properly cared for from early childhood.

I thank the school officials, teachers, parents, pupils and the Red Cross who have supported the health work.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET E. HARRIS, R.N.
